Explanation of how Judging and Awards are Handled

A.K.A - The PerkyPastry Rule

Judging

- Due to the sheer number of videos submitted in previous years, the number expected to be submitted this year, and the time available to show said videos the Fan Art Theater will institute a different style of exposition then in previous years.
- All videos submitted to the competition will continue to be allowed to compete as long as they are not disqualified.
- All submissions, including those of an adult nature, will compete together during judging sessions. However, videos deemed too adult for a general audience will be moved to a specific carded showing block during the convention.
- All videos will be brought before a panel of judges consisting of Youmacon Staff, Fan Art Theater Staff, and general attendees at designated judging sessions between the submission deadline and the convention.
 - Entrants will not be allowed to be on the judging panel.
 - Staff is the only exception to this rule, however they will not be allowed to judge during the Staff Competition.
- The coordinator will also judge videos with the judges. However, scores from the coordinator will only be taken into account to break ties.
- Judges will view and rate videos on a scale between 00 and 100 in 3 judging categories which shall be weighted based on importance for an optimum viewing at the convention.
 - The Judging Categories follows:
 - Quality
 - Judges will determine the overall quality of the video based on both audio and video quality. The better looking and sounding the video is, the higher the score.
 - Creativity
 - Judges will determine the overall perceived creativity of the video, which is to say how original the video is in comparison to others in the contest and other videos the judges have seen.
 - Enjoy ability
 - Judges will determine a score based on how well they enjoyed the video in question and how well they believe our audience will enjoy the video.
 - Weighting of categories shall be handled as follows:

- Quality – 25%
- Creativity – 15%
- Enjoy Ability – 60%
- Weighting will allow for each video to be given a total score of 0-100 for each judge.
- Final scores for each video will be determined by adding the total score from each judge and dividing it by the maximum score available by all judges.
- If there are 3 judges, max total score would be 300.
- If 3 judges gave scores equaling 56.7, 48.2, and 82.4, total score would be 187.3.
- Taking these totals, we will divide 187.3 by 300 (187.3/300) to obtain a percentage of 62.43%
- Videos will then be ranked based on their final percentage score from highest to lowest.
- In the event there is a tie between videos in ranking, the coordinator's scores will be taken into account in order to break the tie, however only for videos which are tied.
- The ranking of videos will determine which videos will be played during the convention during the competition viewing blocks.
- The highest ranked videos will be added to the list one by one until the time limit for the showing blocks have been met.
- All videos not on the final list for showings will not be shown during the viewing blocks, however will be retained for other viewings and requests during the con.
- Judges will also select specific videos during judging sessions in order to award special awards to.
- These judges awards will have no bearing on final scores.
- Judges awards may be given to videos not in the final con showing.
- Final Scores will have no bearing on Judges Awards
- Judges will rank videos on a scale of 0-100 as a determination of adultness or the need to card before viewing.
- All entries will be similarly graded and ranked in order of adultness via percentage.
- All entries above a specific threshold will be moved from being shown during standard convention blocks to a specific carded event where they will compete for an audience choice Adult Video Award.
- Even such entries deemed to be adult in nature will still compete with normal entries for standard judges awards and even potentially the Best in Show award.
- If such adult entries do indeed win an award they may not be shown during the Award Ceremony depending on the nature of the submission,
